The options and styles available in contemporary kitchens has increased significantly in recent years. The next few pages will show the options we have available to help you make the right choice contemporary kitchens

Mix and match colours and finishes

Until recently, using a single colour or material in your kitchen was the norm, but now there are more adventurous options. Mixing and matching materials and finishes on islands and wall units can be used to good effect, creating a truly individual look

Using two colours on wall cabinets adds a subtle design feature

Different coloured gloss painted doors work well with a wood-effect breakfast bar

Carbon black and white matt doors combine well with the dark wood effect on the tall cabinets

Using handles to personalise your look

Completing your kitchen with door handles is a popular choice, but can often be overlooked as a key part of the design. The correct door handle will enhance the entire room and can be used to match with other accessories or furniture

Far left: Copper handles and an anthracite door are a perfect combination

Left: In-line handles are discreet solution for an uncluttered look

Look out for this icon to see which ranges feature handles

An alternative to the traditional handle

Choosing the integrated 'J' handle can give the impression of a handleless look at a more economical price than a handleless profile system

The 'J' handle is an ideal option for curved corner units due to its unique construction

Look out for this icon to see which ranges feature 'J' handle doors

Our touch system for a truly seamless feel

Our 'Touch' system creates a truly minimal design. Doors sit flush against the worktop, opening with a gentle push. Combine with anti fingerprint Design project finishes for the perfect seamless look

Touch can be used on tall wall cabinets, as well as drawers and peninsulars to give flexibility

Look out for this icon to see ranges feature 'Touch'

Create a sleek look with a handleless profile

With its streamlined look the handleless profile is perfect for a modern kitchen. Taking up less room in a tight space than handles, they can be supplemented with lighting strips under the worktop to create a subtle yet striking visual effect

Use on floor and wall cabinets as well as feature islands for a minimalist feel. Add a contrasting trim colour to enhance the overall look

Look out for this icon to see which ranges can feature the handleless profile

City Line

Urban living is captured in this range with pastel colours, subtle textures and woodgrain-effect doors. Grey doors, when mixed with the cross-grain finish of light ash and open display units, adds flair to any kitchen

Classic kitchens can come in many forms. From classic to modern shaker, Georgian to in-frame or traditional oak, our ranges have the choice to meet your needs classic

kitchens

Classic kitchen door styles

Shaker doors are very popular and are styled on furniture made by the Shaker community in the 18th century. Doors have recessed panels that come in a variety of colours and finishes. In recent times, glazed units have been introduced to give a more modern feel

In-frame doors are instantly recognisable by their design. The door sits within a frame and when combined with a butt hinge gives the feeling of real craftsmanship. They can be used to create a range of styles and can easily feel at home in a more modern kitchen design

Traditional doors are defined by their fine details, such as raised panels and natural or painted wooden doors. They are best suited to country and farmhouse kitchens but can be used to create a town house look

Country Farmhouse

The tongue and groove detailing on this door brings the classic rural kitchen design up to date with a modern feel. Mix the soft ivory tones with brass handles to complete the look

Responsible sourcing

We're committed to bringing you quality products, while reducing our impact on the environment. That means knowing where our materials come from, minimising our packaging and recycling what we can.

Timber

We recognise that the production of timber-based products can have a significant environmental and social impact and that's why we've developed our timber policy. It makes our expectations clear and ensures we only work with suppliers who share our values.

Our customers can feel assured that we know where all of our timber comes from, and carry out detailed checks to ensure our standards are always maintained.

Packaging

Packaging plays an important role in protecting your kitchen while on its way to you but we're also mindful of creating unnecessary waste. We're committed to minimising the amount of packaging we use whenever we can, and exploring the use of new, more environmentally responsible materials.

Recycling

We contribute towards supporting recycling compliance schemes that invest in local recycling centres across the country to make it easier for our customers to recycle more close to home.

We also actively support waste reduction and recycling within our business, for our customers and among our suppliers. We aim to divert as much of our operational waste away from landfill as possible, and have a target of zero waste to landfill by the end of 2020. We also look for opportunities to recycle whatever we can and to use waste within our business.

Our suppliers

We've been working with like minded kitchen suppliers for well over a decade. We believe the main reason these relationships are so successful is that these suppliers share our passion.

We expect them to obey the law, to respect the rights, interests and well being of their employees, their communities and the environment, whether in the UK or further afield.

Committed to finding new and better ways to do business, we actively encourage our suppliers to do the same in relation to sustainability and responsible sourcing.

Made in UK

All our fitted kitchens are made in the UK. We work with the leading UK fitted kitchen manufacturers who use state of the art technology and classic craftsmanship to provide a wide range of quality complete kitchens.

Some materials used in our worktops may come from overseas, but all are hand crafted by skilled British craftsmen.

Your dream kitchen starts here

KITCHENS | John Lewis

Our conditions of sale have been designed to ensure the installation of your new kitchen goes as smoothly as possible.

Every kitchen is different

- Each John Lewis kitchen is made to order.
- The illustrations, drawings and dimensions in our catalogues are intended as a guide only.
- When your estimate is produced, it is your responsibility to ensure that the information and specifications it contains meet your requirements.

Natural materials

- Furniture that uses wood components or wood veneers will display natural grain and colour characteristics that may vary from what is featured in showroom displays and photographs. We cannot supply specially matched components.
- Granite and other naturally occurring stone worktops will also display colour variations and may not match shop-floor samples exactly.

Building work

- If you are having any building work carried out as part of your kitchen project, this must be completed before we can undertake a site visit. Any walls to which kitchen units will be fitted need to be in place, plastered and dry.
- New kitchens cannot be installed in a damp or freshly plastered space.

Timescales

- The time needed to plan and install a kitchen varies from home to home. The ordering timescales we provide are a guide only. We will keep you informed of the progress of your kitchen.

Delivery

- Your kitchen units will be delivered direct to your home on the day advised by your local John Lewis shop. This may involve you having to store them for a day or so until installation commences.
- Units should be stored in a place free from damp.
- It is usual for your appliances, accessories and worktops to be delivered separately during the week of your kitchen installation.

Preparing for installation

- Fitting a kitchen is a building project which will disrupt your routine. The kitchen working area may be unusable for a time. It may be necessary to disconnect services such as gas, water and electricity. Fitting a kitchen creates dust, but our installers will keep your kitchen and agreed working area as tidy as possible.

Installation

- The work will start with the removal of your existing kitchen. We can also dispose of your old kitchen.
- Certain tasks or requirements may only become apparent when your existing furniture and appliances have been removed. Where this is the case, we will let you know what the cost of any necessary work will be.

Doing the job properly

- Installing a kitchen is a complex task. While we try to finish your kitchen during the initial installation period, remedial work may be required. Our installer may make several return visits to your home in order to complete the job.

Specialist worktops

- To ensure a perfect fit, we measure up for specialist worktops such as granite, Corian, quartz, and glass after the main kitchen is fitted.
- Lead times for specialist worktops can range from two to eight weeks depending on the material chosen. During this time we will install temporary worktops to the sink and cooking area only.
- Once the specialist worktops have been manufactured, we will return to fit them.

Payment

- Once you've agreed our estimate, you'll need to pay a 20%, non-refundable deposit. The balance will be payable two weeks before the delivery day.
- We accept payment by Partnership Card, John Lewis or Waitrose account cards, Switch, Delta, Mastercard, Visa or cash.

- Prices are valid for 28 days from the date shown on your estimate.

Finance options are available, please speak to one of our Partners in store or visit our website.

Colours and designs

- Due to photographic and printing processes some colours may not be a true representation of the product. Please see sample for actual colour. It may be necessary for us to change designs and specifications without prior notice.

10 year guarantee

- All John Lewis fitted kitchen furniture shown in this brochure comes with a 10 year guarantee.

For a full copy of our guarantee, please contact your local John Lewis shop.
