Setu's Kinematic Spine is engineered to follow the movement of the user. You are fully supported from the moment you sit down.

The spine bends and flexes as you move and Setu's fabric is a superior suspension material that automatically conforms to any user's body shape providing ergonomic support. The only adjustment you may need is the seat height.

Setu has been designed with care for the environment in mind. It has been certified with the MBDC Cradle-to-Cradle certificate, which is a means to measure environmentally intelligent design. This certificate verifies that no hazardous materials have been used, that the product is easy to disassemble and that the great majority of its components are recyclable.

Herman Miller chairs are built to last and Setu comes complete with a 12 year warranty based on 24/7 use*.

*12 year warranty based on 24/7 use excluding gas cylinder (3 years) and Lyris fabric (5 years).
